Important information

- We are AltokeTicket and we are dedicated to selling tickets for the best events in the country. However, you must remember that we are not the organizers of the event, that is, we are not responsible for the general condition, safety conditions of the establishment or for rescheduling or cancellations that may occur before, during or after the event.
- Therefore, in the event of any eventuality, you will have to contact the company organizing the event. You can obtain information about this through all of our customer service channels.
- If you decide to purchase from unauthorized points of sale, the responsibility will be yours, therefore, if the ticket turns out to be false or adulterated, the promoter may NOT AUTHORIZE entry to the event.
- Do not disclose or share the ticket with third parties.
- IMPORTANT! When you arrive at the event you must present your ticket (printed or virtual) along with your identification document
- If you purchased insurance, the insurance certificate will be sent by Altoke Ticket to the email address indicated by the ticket.

For any questions or queries about the event or this ticket, you can contact us from the Support option on our website <https://www.example.com>
